

Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace paragraph [79] on page 15 with the following rewritten paragraph:

[79] The systems and methods disclosed ~~herien~~ herein may be implemented in various ways, including embodiments where they are part of the operating system or where they are not part of the operating system. In addition, the system may comprise more than one software component, or the functionality of the systems and methods may be achieved by one or more pre-existing components that have been modified accordingly.